OVERVIEW

Despite considerable improvements in seismic data quality and imaging algorithms, velocities and earth models remain the key challenge for depth prediction. Therefore, EAGE and PESGB have joined forces to establish a series of workshops to address this and other issues involved in velocities. In this second workshop, we will focus on all aspects of reducing uncertainties; including applications in seismic imaging, velocity model building, pore pressure prediction, depth conversion and drilling.

During the Call for Abstracts we will especially welcome case histories highlighting successes and failures in this field.

Why should you attend:

- The workshop will have a strong focus on practical solutions
- You will have direct access to world-class experts from academia, service providers and operators

TOPICS

The topics for the Second EAGE/PESGB Workshop on Velocities are:

- Velocity Modelling Challenges
- Seismic Acquisition for Velocity Estimation
- Full Waveform Inversion, Reflection Tomography and other VMB Techniques
- Multiparameter Estimation: Anisotropy, Attenuation and Elastic
- Joint Velocity Inversion with Borehole and Non-seismic Measurements
- Velocities for Geohazard Identification and Pore Pressure Prediction
- Velocities as an Interpretation Product
- Understanding Uncertainty in Velocity Models
- Machine Learning and Velocity Model Building
- Others
